NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive
Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.
He respectfully refers to the following
CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H R Hoagland we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used

It fastens without bolt or screw and is therefore easily and speedily separated It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant and is convenient safe and secure

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use and with small expense We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent heretofore considered the best in use

[DISPATCHES TO THE [illegible]IAN]

EASTERN DATES TO MARCH 11

Congressional

WASHINGTON March 11 — In the House Julian asked leave to have his report [illegible] to put on its passage a bill for locating and [illegible] to homestead settlers all lands not legally disposed of and granted [illegible] 18[illegible] [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Wells from the Railroad Committee reported a bill authorizing the Norfolk [illegible] and St Louis Railroad Company [illegible] on the New York and Washington Air Line Railroad

The bill reducing the number of officers of the army was taken up Logan addressed the House in explanation and advocacy of the bill He characterized the present organization of the army as the clumsiest in the world He denied that any ill feeling was entertained on the part of the committee towards army officers Previous to last November there were 612 supernumerary army officers The number has since been reduced by assignment, dismissal, deaths, etc, to 508 The first section of the bill provides for a Board to examine into the military record qualifications etc of all officers below the rank of Brigadier General It recommends those to be retained and the President to order such transfers and with the consent of the Senate to make such appointments as he deemed proper of all officers so recommended to existing vacancies All officers not recommended by the board to be mustered out Logan asserted that the staff of the American army of 37,000 men was as large as the staff of the French army of half a million of men or the Russian army of eight hundred thousand The staff corps of the American army in 1860 consisted of 350 officers, and in 1860 [illegible] 883 These officers were mostly Lieutenants or Captains Now they are all from Majors to Brigadier Generals He ridiculed the idea of putting Brigadier and Major Generals at the head of the Quartermaster and Commissary Departments where the duties are to be judges of boots and shoes and bean soup The pay of the Department is entirely too large if not entirely unnecessary The following sections provide that the offices of General and Lieutenant General shall continue until a vacancy occurs and no longer There shall be only three Major Generals and six Brigadier General after the first of September next to be selected by the President without regard to seniority Others to be mustered from the service Heads of staff of Departments may continue in their offices at that rank The officers mustered out under the bill shall have one year's pay and allowance The ninth section abolishes Brevet rank. The eleventh section forbids army officers to hold civil offices, whether by election or appointment The twelfth section repeals the clause in the act of June 30th, 1866, which makes the General of the Army superior to the President. The thirteenth section provides for the transfer of the Indian Bureau to the War Department but he says, on reading the account of the Pigeon massacre his blood ran cold and the committee struck out that section The fourteenth section regulates the pay of officers In explaining this section, Logan described the present system of making allowance for forage rations etc For example, the pay proper of a General is $4 800 but he actually receives pay and allowances amounting to $19,278 He never could make out the mode of figuring up these allowances The committee have proposed to fix the pay as follows For General, $12,000, Lieutenant General, $10,000, which, he thinks, a good salary for a young man without a family, Major General, $7,500, Brigadier General, $5,000, Colonel, $3,500 Lieutenant Colonel, $3,000, Captains, mounted, $2,000, Captain, not mounted, $1,800; Adjutant, $1,800, Regimental Quartermaster, $1 600, First Lieutenant, mounted, $1,600, First Lieutenant not mounted, $1,500, Second Lieutenant, mounted, $1500, Second Lieutenant not mounted, $1400, chaplain $1200 Retired officers to receive seventy five per cent of the pay of the rank on which they are retired Logan said the saving effected by the bill would approximate $3 000,000 The first three sections of the bill were adopted with slight amendments Sections four and twelve were adopted without amendment On motion of Logan, section thirteen transferring the Indian Bureau to the War Department was stricken out and a section inserted in lieu, which provides an assimilated rank for Professors in the Military Academy The fourteenth section was amended giving officers below the grade of brigadier, ten per cent extra pay for each term of five years' service the total not to exceed forty per cent

Slocum agreed with Logan in regard to the extravagance of the army He also defended its efficiency

On motion of Logan an additional section was inserted providing that artillery officers below the grade of field officers, shall not be promoted without passing an examination by a board of three artillery officers On the second failure to pass, they shall be dropped from the rolls The bill then passed Several members were permitted to file speeches for publication in the Globe

In the evening session the Vice President presented a communication from General Reynolds covering a copy of the new constitution of Texas with the ratification of the 13th 14th and 15th Amendments, and the election of U. S. Senators by the Legislature with other papers Referred to the Judiciary Committee

Party Policies Contrasted.

Many Eastern journals refer to the Democratic policy of opposing land grants for internal improvements, as developed in the recent speeches of Democratic Senators on the Portland, Astoria and McMinnville bill. The New York Tribune says Democratic Senators "fancy that they represent people and parties as they existed before the flood in this country," and adds:

> It is not surprising, therefore, to find them voting on the Oregon railroad bill against the land grant provision with Senator Casserly, whose opposition was based on the singular idea that the public lands were a national trust, not to be legislated away for the benefit of the present generation, but preserved in all their unproductiveness for the millions yet to come. It is encouraging to know that this and like arguments induced only the members named to vote against the grant; and that the bill finally passed.

The Boston Advertiser notices the opposition which this bill met at the hands of the Democrats, and its Washington correspondent writes that in spite of this opposition the Senate bill is very sure of being passed by the House before the close of the session.

A few days ago we gave an extract from the New York Times on this subject. We here append a paragraph from the Washington correspondence of the same paper:

> The question of subsidizing railroads by land grants in the future, was bitterly fought in the Senate on the bill to aid in the construction of the road from Portland, Oregon, to Astoria and McMinnville in the same State, and won—so far, at least, as the present Congress is concerned. There had been for months so much discussion both in the newspaper Press, and in Congress and outside of it, on continuing the policy which has heretofore obtained on this subject, that the fate of the bill to-day was looked forward to with some anxiety, as it would afford an indication of the intentions of the legislative branch of the Government on this important branch of industry. The Democrats were very bitter in their opposition, and to a man opposed the bill. Mr. Thurman probably made the most noticeable speech. In strong language he inveighed against our railroad policy in the past. It was no use, however. Other Senators took a more favorable view of the subject, and experienced Senators like Mr. Harlan, who considered the first land grant rather doubtful, gave it, as their opinion, that the past course of the Government had been a wise one, and that it was the best possible means of developing the material resources of the continent. Amendment after amendment was offered by the Democrats to transfer the bill, but they were voted down as quickly as they were presented, and the measure was passed without many material changes.

We ask the people of Oregon to look at these facts. They see here in contrast the policy of the Republicans and that of the Democrats. Can they have any difficulty in deciding which of these policies is best for the prosperity of their State? The Democratic idea of allowing no aid for internal improvements, and of preserving the public lands in all their unproductiveness, as the New York Tribune expresses it, is but little in advance of the idea entertained by some that, in justice to the Indians, they should be allowed to hold the lands forever, and that civilization should be kept back in order that the "noble red-man" may not be wronged. The people of Oregon should consider the interests and wants of their State. What are the political issues now? What, indeed, but questions of internal policy affecting the growth and prosperity of the country? The [illegible] is out of politics; reconstruction is practically finished; the fifteenth amendment is ratified and all the questions growing out of the fierce agitation of the last ten years have been disposed of. What then remains? It remains to continue or abandon a policy which has contributed beyond computation to the growth and greatness of the country; it remains to push forward in the work of internal improvement and development, as proposed by Republicans, under the fostering care and aid of the General Government, or to relinquish this policy and adopt the Democratic idea of giving no Government aid or encouragement to the vital interests of the country. Fellow citizens of Oregon! which of these policies is the true one for your State?

A Little Dissection in Clackamas.

The Oregon City Enterprise wails dolefully through a long article about what it is pleased to call "Republican frauds" in Clackamas county. It appears that Mr. Wade and other Republicans at Oregon City have actually been making some inquiry throughout the county about the relative strength of the two parties,—at all events this is the substance of one of the terrible charges of "fraud" made by the Enterprise. Again, Frank Cooper and others have been hiring men from several counties to work on the railroad in Clackamas. This is the substance of another charge of "fraud." Truly these be terrible facts! We believe, however, that men were hired last year from different places and sent into Clackamas county to work on the railroad, and the Enterprise saw no semblance of "fraud" in the transaction. As to the charge that Mr. Wade has been engaged in the highly fraudulent business of inquiry into the probable strength of the two parties in his county, we leave him to justify himself before his vicinage. The Enterprise no doubt would hold his act to be "flat burglary" at the very least. And now since that paper has introduced this subject we will take occasion to state some facts which will be far more interesting than its little fictions. Last week the Democratic managers in Clackamas conceived the brilliant idea of importing enough votes into their county to override the Republican majority and elect their ticket. With this project in view they raised a few hundred dollars, and sent messengers to this city to get men. They succeeded in finding thirty-two, whom they took in a body to Oregon City last Friday, the last day but one for colonization. These men were placed at the hotels, and their leader paid their board from day to day in advance. Seventeen stopped with Mr. Barlow, of the Cliff House. It was the intention to obtain places for these men in different parts of the county, and keep them till after the election. But the managers of the nice little scheme soon found their funds running low. Before they could get situations for their "imports" they had used up all their capital and could pay the daily board bills no longer. Most of the men therefore came back to Portland, though a few still remain at Oregon City. It is believed at Oregon City that the conductors of the Enterprise had information as to these transactions. When those who have started this cry of "fraud" against the Republicans have sufficiently cogitated on the above exposure of Democratic operations in Clackamas, we shall be ready to furnish them with some more pleasant reading of the same kind.

It is pretty evident that the candidate of the "horny hand" has gone to the wall. The current report is that the County Convention is dead set against him. We entirely agree with the Colonel in one thing, viz. That he will never veto a China bill!

Editorial Notes.

Congressman Smith has introduced a railroad bill in the House, but he will never get it or any similar bill through Congress if the Democrats in that body have power to kill it. They stubbornly oppose all grants of land.

We have seen one of Col. Chapman's circulars for the primaries which read thus: "Friends of white labor, your dearest interests are at stake." This seems to have been a shrewd device to cut under the Herald, which keeps a motto standing at the head of its columns, in which it considerately demands "good beef" for everybody. We simply "put this and that together."

We wish to assure the Herald that no allusion was intended and no reference made to its business affairs or financial standing, in the paragraph which appeared in these columns a day or two since. The "whispers in Democratic circles" that we spoke of, referred only to the editorial conduct of the Herald, and were whispers of discontent with the paper as an exponent of Democratic principles. We do not trouble ourselves about the Herald's business affairs, and are glad to hear that they are satisfactory to itself.

It is very hard to please some folks. The Oregon City Enterprise, heretofore that persistent enemy of Chinese labor, don't like it because white men are now employed on the railroad. It says: "Last summer Chinamen were employed on this road to the exclusion of white men, but now not a single Chinaman can be found employed on the road, but white men are employed in loading the cars of the construction train with gravel for ballasting the road, and yet this very kind of work, is the work at which Chinese labor could be made most profitable." Last year the Enterprise was in distress because some Chinese were employed; this year it seems to be in even greater distress because Chinese are not employed altogether. Eternal principles, you know!

Mungen, the shining light of Democracy, who wants to repudiate the debt, who has been implicated in selling cadetships, and who has printed in the official paper of Congress a speech too nasty to be read except in the stews of the Capital, is not rising very rapidly in the confidence of the country, notwithstanding his nomination for the Presidency by an admiring Oregon journal. Many Democratic papers of the decent sort censure his nasty speech and speak of him in uncomplimentary terms generally. His is a savory reputation indeed! But if we may judge of the matter by the tone of the Democratic press of our State the Convention of that party, soon to assemble, will very probably devote at least one entire resolution to encomiums upon Mungen.

THE WEST.

The Helena (Montana) Herald says that reports from the new mining camp of Cedar Creek continue highly favorable. This district is in Missoula county.

The California Senate has passed a bill to gerrymander the Congressional districts of that State. One object of the movement is to kill Axtell, Democratic Congressman from San Francisco, who is objectionable to the party on account of his liberal opinions.

A letter, dated Aurora, February 22d, says: In the fatal affray at Fish Lake Valley, Esmeralda county, California, between A. R. Wilds and Jas. Dudley, Wilds fired first, upon which Dudley fired, both parties being almost instantly killed. A dispute about some money, over a game of cards, was the cause of the difficulty.

From the New York Herald of the 22d ult., we learn that Lieutenant J. W. Whann, U. S. A., has been relieved from duty at Nez Perces Agency, Idaho Territory, and assigned to the Yakima Agency, Washington Territory, vice Lieutenant James M. Smith; Captain David M. Sells has been assigned to Idaho, vice Lieutenant Whann.

The report of the Directors of the Insane Asylum shows that insanity is increasing in California, faster, in proportion, than the population increases. The number in the Asylum in October, 1868, was 854. On October 1st, 1869, the number was 920. During the year 582 were admitted, and 416 discharged (159 died, 225 were cured and 31 were benefitted so much as to be able to leave). Nearly 1,000 insane people in a State of 500,000 people (one in 500) is a large proportion.

The free lunch system is as good as a feast to the bummers of San Francisco. What would thousands do but for the free lunches? They would be compelled to steal or go to work, which would be a serious hardship to many. The San Francisco Commercial Herald, entering into the minutia of the cost of these bummers' boarding houses, finds the aggregate expense of free lunch in that city to be a daily expenditure of $17,200; monthly, $103,400; yearly, $1,240,000. To which add wages of cooks, $384,000 per year; of waiters, $300,000, making a grand total of $1,922,400 per year, without estimating cost of fire, lights, wear and tear, etc.

Latest Paris Fashions.

[Paris (Feb. 1) Correspondence Philadelphia North American.]

The most prominent article in the way of fashions is the total disappearance of long dresses for morning and out-door wear. Even for visits of ceremony, costumes and short dresses are de rigueur, and universally adopted. Some persons even wear these in the evening, but it must only be in reunions intimes, as dresses with long traines are the thing for evening, however inconvenient for dancing or moving about in. For young girls there is a middle course, which is generally adopted. The dress is made long, but the lengthened queue is only worn when the dress is of faille or poult de soie, and these, it is needless to say, do not become youthful persons as much as tulles, crapes or even tarletanes. The double skirts or or tuniques are worn as bouffants as ever, looped up with knots or boquets of flowers; but the sash has become much modified, consisting chiefly of bows representing a butterfly, without ends, which enables the looping up of the second skirt to be seen. Long ends to the sash are, however, worn when there is only one skirt, as it then ornaments the dress.

The trimmings to dresses are as various as the variety of tastes. Narrow flounces of five, six or even nine, are worn, as well as one deep flounce, with a plaited heading. This latter style is very much adopted when the under shortskirt has a tunic over it, in which case the tunic is trimmed to correspond, and just reaches the heads of the flounces. Bouillons are chiefly used in light materials. The bodies are cut square, open in front for demi-toilettes, a fichu of crepe or tulle in folds being worn under it, and revers of satin or velvet trimming the body. For low dresses the berthe gives a square or round appearance at will, trimmed with black or white lace. Feathers are much used for trimming velvet dresses and hats, and a narrow band of peacock's feathers thus employed has a charming effect. Astrakan, both black and gray, is much worn, with Cachemire dresses of all colors and shades.

The Paris correspondent of a Montreal paper has written a very entertaining sketch of George Sand's mode of life at her chateau at Nohant, in company with her son and daughter in law. The great proseuse rises at eleven, breakfasts alone on an egg and a cup of sugarless black coffee. Then she smokes a few cigarettes, the best Maryland tobacco. At twelve she goes out for a walk, returns in an hour to write till six, then dinner for herself—soup, fish caught by her own hands, and fruits, ad libitum. At midnight she retires to her room, makes her toilette de nuit, and then writes until six in the morning. If she finishes a work at two o'clock she "lays down a new keel," and continues to write until the usual hour. Her penmanship is clear, and each page, written on lines, is limited to a fixed number of words. Old music is her delight and Mozart her favorite; she is fond of private theatricals and of dominoes, but she never plays for money. In personal appearance she is described as dumpy, but not disagreeably so; her head and shoulders are large and heavy, her eyes piercingly black, her mouth vulgar but not sensual, hands and feet small and plump as a child's, and a complexion the color of old ivory. She dresses after the antique, but is fond of gaudy colors.

OREGON.

The Coos Bay Wagon Road Co., will have an annual election of officers on the 22d inst., at Roseburg.

The man George Dodson who shot Cochran in Union county, the other day, has been arrested and is in jail at La Grande.

The Democrats of Benton county have nominated for State Senator, R. S. Strahan, Representatives, D. Carlile, and W. R. Calloway, County Judge, John Burnett, Sheriff, J. S. Palmer.

There was great rejoicing along the Umpqua river the other day when the new steamer Swan made her first successful trip to Roseburg and down again. At Cole's valley where she lay over night, the people got up an impromptu ball and danced all night.

Mr. W. T. Ramsey gives the Salem Statesman the following school statistics of Marion county, for the year ending March 5. Legal voters, 2,192, gain over 1869, 111. Children between 4 and 20 years of age, 4,457, gain over 1869, 159. There are 55 districts and 83 teachers, male and female, have been employed during the year. Number of quarters of schools taught, 127, or an average of nearly 7 months to each district.

From the Salem Statesman, 11th: Snow fell on the hills over in Polk, Wednesday night, but it didn't stay. ... Marion county divides $6 300,50 school money, giving $1 39½ to each scholar. .....County warrants are excessively scarce.. The Gregorys opened Thursday night to a full house. ....On Thursday, a man named A. H. Gish was arrested, on a requisition from the Governor of Iowa, brought by one Sargent, whom Gish is accused of having defrauded of a lot of cattle, said to have been procured, some five years ago, under false pretenses.

We have a letter from San Francisco, asking further information about the nondescript animal trapped and killed in Polk county last January, of which we published a correspondent's account on the 28th of January. The writer expresses the conviction that the animal belonged to a class hitherto unknown to naturalists, and to determine this question, he wants to obtain the bones and skin of the beast. He has long been satisfied of the existence in northern California of a beast of prey not belonging to any of the classified animals and thinks this is one of the same. If the person who killed the monster will communicate with W. O. Ayers, M. D., San Francisco, California, something may come of it, of advantage to natural science, as well as to the parties concerned.

Democratic Method of Argumentation.

BY SUPPRESSING AND FALSIFYING THE PUBLIC RECORDS.

The following important article is communicated to the Statesman by Hon. T. W. Davenport:

When the Republicans of the last Legislature resigned their seats and left that body without a quorum, they issued an "address to the people," attempting to show them, that their action of withdrawal was a choice of evils, and therefore designed for the public good. In that address they stated their evidences. The Hon. Mr. Herman, Senator from Douglas county, in a speech made in the Senate after withdrawal, gave a forcible presentation of the matter, and sometime afterward the Hon. John Minto, member from Marion county, issued an "address" to his constituents, exhibiting his convictions in a very clear light. In the newspaper war that followed, the evidences and arguments were again examined, so that I need not give them in detail. Suffice it to say that the Republicans were convinced of the intention of the majority to postpone the final adjournment from day to day, taking up the time in idle discussion upon worse than useless bills; staving off the consideration of the appropriation bill, and thus worry along until two or three more Republican members had left, when the Governor being without any protection for his veto, they could gerrymander the State so as to increase the Democratic strength in the Legislature and pass whatever little bills necessary to give employment and pay to Democratic politicians, and increase the expenses of the Government. The Republicans summed up the cost of the evils and concluded that it would cost the State less to pay interest on the taxes.

The constitutional or pay term of the Legislature had expired, the session having been protracted beyond any previous one, so that it was force work to keep members at the State capital without pay. Of the Democrats, Huston had resigned, and White and Grant had gone home; of the Republicans Adams, Jackson and Lichtenthaler had gone home.

The old Democratic economy dodge was exposed, as the expenses of the session were $3,000 more than any one since the State Government was organized. The neglect or refusal to pass the appropriation bill was fastened upon the Democracy, and everything done to show how completely that party had failed to fulfill its promises to the people.

But, lo and behold! what the people facetiously termed the rump, has done what it conveniently could do to cover up its ugly record, by suppressing and altering the House Journal. First, in relation to the final adjournment: On Friday, October 23d, Senate Joint Resolution, No. 20, fixed next day for adjournment, came into the House and was tabled by a strict party vote, with one exception, Mr. Trullinger voting for, and Mr. Bryant against. On the 24th of October, Saturday, Mr. Chapman moved to take up Senate Joint Resolution, No. 20, on the adjournment of both houses "sine die," and offered an amendment, so as to read Monday instead of Saturday, which prevailed. The Senate concurred in the amendment the same night. On Monday Mr. Chapman moved to reconsider the vote by which Senate Joint Resolution, No. 20, that both houses adjourn, sine die, on Monday, was adopted; but that last part of the Journal has been omitted. The Examining Committee, or somebody else, omitted, suppressed or expunged it. The Senate did consider it. Secondly: In regard to the appropriation bill—House Bill, No. 22. On page 513, House Journal, reads as follows: "Mr. Davenport moved to take up H. B. No. 92, An Act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the State Government, and other general and specific appropriations." "Which motion was lost."

This is all the Journal gives in relation to my motion concerning that bill. It tells an arrant falsehood by withholding the whole truth, for the yeas and nays were demanded by Messrs. Minto and Simpson, and taken by the Clerk with the following result: Yeas—Messrs. Alexander, of Benton, Applegate, Burnett, Brown, Davenport, Denny, Flook, Gazley, Garret, Huxter, Minto, Pendegast, Simpson, Trullinger and Taylor—15. Nays—22—all Democrats.

Not twenty minutes after this vote, I moved again to take up the appropriation bill, but the chair did not entertain the motion.

On page 519, the Journal reads: "Mr. Gazley moved to take up H. B. 92, which motion the speaker ruled out of order, as the bill had been referred to the Committee of the Whole." And this is the last mention of the bill and the efforts of the Republican members to bring it before the House. The truth, however, is otherwise. Shortly after Mr. Gazley's recorded motion, he moved formally "that the House now go into Committee of the Whole on the appropriation bill (H. B. No. 92)."

Mr. Chapman objected, and said he did not know why members were so anxious to take up the appropriation bill, and went on speaking to something else, when Mr. Gazley rose to a point of order, that the motion which took up H. B. No 92 was pending. The motion was not entertained, and the Clerk continued to read.

Subsequently, Mr. Minto moved to bring the bill before the House, but was ruled out of order.

Notwithstanding all this the Journal is silent in every respect, as quoted above. Now the question arises, who did the job for the supposed benefit and in the interest of the Democratic party. Come out, gentlemen! We are waiting for some one to turn State's evidence. Come out and make a clean breast of the matter.

The Chief clerk certifies to the correctness of the Journal, excepting Friday, Saturday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Oct. 23d, 24th, 26th, 27th and 28th, which was read by the committee and offered by them. So Mr. White, the Chief Clerk, is not accountable. We will now call on the committee to examine the Journal for those days of October, excepted from the Clerk's certificate.

Come, Messrs. Godfrey, Kirk, London, Gray and Cox, what have you to say why sentence of death should not be pronounced against you. It is indeed a trying ordeal, but it might be worse. Think of the fortitude of your ancestors, and your late brethren in arms, Jeff. Davis, Quantrel and Kamiakin, and come to the confessional. Why didn't you have a Republican on the committee? Yours respectfully,

T. W. DAVENPORT.

Dean Stanley once told a friend that he had read Hawthorne's "Marble Faun" six times. "Once," said he, "I read it as a new book, from curiosity; a second time, on account of its beautiful language; a third time, because I was going to Rome; a fourth, as a work well suited to the spirit of Rome; a fifth, after I left Rome, as a pleasant reminder of my visit; and a sixth time, because I wanted to!"

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

ARRIVAL OF MILITARY GENTLEMEN—DELAY OF THE PACKERS.

[From the Walla Walla Statesman, Feb. 8.]

Generals Crook and Saxon arrived at Walla Walla on Saturday last, on a tour of inspection. They expressed themselves well satisfied with the condition of the post under Capt. S. D. Smith, and fully sustained his action in driving the real estate operators off the reservation. The General commanding also directed that measures be taken to prevent any future demonstrations by squatters upon land reserved for Government uses.

Owing to the late snow storms the packers have delayed fitting out their trains, but with the first "Chinook" to clear the snow off the mountains, they will be up and going to the relief of the hungry miners.

A woman in Oshkosh, Wisconsin, convicted of inhumanly beating her little step son, pulling his hair out by the handful and locking him up in an outbuilding, with no covering but his night shirt, until his feet were frozen, was sentenced to three months' imprisonment. SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 12,

CITY.

As the season becomes garden with the usual queries ing seeds will be made. We are satisfied part of the world can produce seeds of perfection than Oregon. This is a fact by a comparison of samples of grain and from eastern States with like kinds of home duction. It has been generally admitted, as we have been able to learn, by farmers have planted Department seeds in Oregon that the product was much better in appe than the seed received. These facts are well known. Indeed, we are informed of cumstance which gives considerable weight vor of Oregon, being none less than that B. K. Bliss of New York, formerly of field, Massachusetts, one of the oldest and reliable seedsmen of the country, has sent age of a new variety of cabbage seeds, cost at the rate of $10 per teaspoonful, Oregon gardener to be planted and sale in New York. In referring to the the causes assigned for this State being better adapted to seed raising, Rev. Mr. son, of Salem says: "It is a known to the raising of seeds, that a cool, dry, and a consequent long, slow growth, to perfect all kinds of seeds. This is the climate we have in Oregon. Here the for the growth of seeds reaches from the March to the last of October during all time the nights are cool, even in the hottest mer months and our seeds become as perf the most favorable conditions can make Our wheat is so plump that when small of it have been taken to Washington to partment of Agriculture, the Commissione declared that it could 'not be a fair sample' it must have been soaked and then subject some hardening process, which fixed it in finted state. Our commonest kinds of often found to weigh 42 lbs to the bushel ers, and even the smaller seeds, and those liable to be imperfect, such as carrot seed to be nearly twice the size of the in the States."

BETTER EARLY THAN LATE.—A pretty point is sometimes carried by being early primary meetings. We remember having some such—but the earliest move we have of in this direction, was related yesterday seems that our Democratic friend Judge whose vote is recorded at a certain precinct of Iowa when the polls are open, "met" 10th of February, and organized the meeting for business before he was his mistake, and had to adjourn for just month. He was in better luck, however, another Democrat in Iowa, of whom the ing is related: "Patrick Riley, a Democrat ing near Westland, the other day, letter that had been laying in the Postoffice some time previous to the last fall election he could not read he took it to a friend who a scholar, and asked him to read it. It was a Democrat friend of Pat's in DeWitt who that time a candidate for an important office ing him (Pat) to be at the polls early in the ing of the election and work hard for him all Pat heard the letter read, scratched his head said he, "Be jabers I must do that tion days?"

REDUCTION IN FREIGHTS AND FARES ON COLUMBIA RIVER.—In another column found the new schedule of freights and fares the line of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company, which goes into effect to-day. This very important matter to the trade to and to the company making the will be seen that there are three generated. In our commercial report are placed in juxtaposition with rates, which will enable the glance how important the change is. We perused a copy of the company's circular to in the advertisement, and find 2d and 3d include sent up the Columbia river from reduction varies from sixty to fifty per RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.—The the topic for discussion at the ing, to be held on Tuesday evening "Law of Divorce." Rev. Wm. the discussion.

On T a committee appointed to make arrangements for ing a District Sunday school Convention ment at the Taylor St. M. E. Church, in this at one o'clock P. M. Committee Revs. Roberts, Todd and DeVore.

The Sentinel says that the dicting will be said every Stations of the Cross and day evening during the holy commencing at 7½ o'clock.

MORE TAPE WORM.—Dr. called upon to make another pork, and the slice of ham, contents, can be seen at his office, in Odd lows Temple, by any who have the to see such things. This made in a ham sold to a family when the fact was made known to him, the stock and took the which we are to the Doctor's have no desire to a tape worm or anything of that nature; but cautioning all persons to be careful and not it is very well cooked. Cook they're all right.

" 7. Song, Ye Tears."—From Albert
" 8. Helter Skelter Gallop.

THE TRIAL OF EFFIE DEANS.—There was little foundation in fact, perhaps, for fiction of Scott's relative to Effie Deans, represented as having been tried for child but was providentially preserved through the and sacrifices of her sister. But there is tion about the statement that A. B. Richardson to-day at the usual hour, will sell a splendid ture representing the trial of Effie Deans, many other useful and ornamental articles be offered at the same hour.

A GERMAN SCHOOL.—Several of the German citizens of Portland are moving in matter of establishing a German school for children. We understand that at a late meeting where this subject was under discussion, fully decided that sufficient means could be to place such school upon a sure basis at and a committee has been appointed to make necessary arrangements for opening the both German and English studies will be pursued.

RESIGNED.—Prof. T. M. Gatch has his resignation as Principal of the Portland Academy and Female Seminary. The Advocate "The long and valued services of Prof. Gatch in connection with this school, will with the present academic year. Prof. Rogers, A. M., of the Genessee Conference Principal of the Griffith Institute, Springville, Y., has accepted a call to the Principalship labors to commence in September next.

CHARTERED.—The steamer Josie Mc which for some time past has been under repairs at the ship yard, has chartered by the Cementville, W. T., Manufacturing Company. She will be employed about harbor in towing and lighters, or sent on expeditions where she may be serviceable charterers. She will leave this city for Cementville to-morrow in charge of Mr. Backus, Manufacturing Company.

SURPRISE PARTY.—Last evening, while Washington Guard were going through the at the Hall, they were surprised by a visit from a number of friends, both and gentlemen, accompanied by a band of It is scarcely necessary to add that the evolutions of the social dances were very soon substituted those of the manual of arms. All enjoyed selves, and the party did not disperse until near midnight.

M. Warren, Jr., and F. M. Arnold excused the term and the balance of the jurors on

K. Bliss, of New York, formerly of Springfield, Massachusetts one of the oldest and most reliable seedsmen of the country has sent a package of a new variety of cabbage seeds, (which cost at the rate of $10 per teaspoonful,) to an Oregon gardener, to be planted and raised here for sale in New York In referring to the subject the causes assigned for this State being so much better adapted to seed raising, Rev Mr Dickinson, of Salem, says "It is a known principle, in the raising of seeds, that a cool dry climate and a consequent long, slow growth, is the best to perfect all kinds of seeds. This is exactly the climate we have in Oregon Here the season for the growth of seeds reaches from the first of March to the last of October during all which time the nights are cool, even in the hottest summer months, and our seeds become as perfect as the most favorable conditions can make them Our wheat is so plump that when small packages of it have been taken to Washington to the Department of Agriculture, the Commissioner has declared that it could 'not be a fair sample', that it must have been soaked and then subjected to some hardening process, which fixed it in its inflated state. Our commonest kinds of oats are often found to weigh 42 lbs to the bushel measure, and even the smaller seeds, and those most liable to be imperfect, such as carrot seed, grow to be nearly twice the size of those in the Atlantic States."

BETTER EARLY THAN LATE —A pretty good point is sometimes carried by being early at the primary meetings. We remember having read of [illegible], but the earliest move we have heard of in this direction, was related yesterday It [illegible] that our Democratic friend Judge S—, whose vote is recorded at a certain precinct south of town when the polls are open, "met" on the 10th of February, and organized the primary [illegible] before he was made aware of his mistake, and had to adjourn for just one month. He was in better luck, however, than [illegible] in Iowa, of whom the following [illegible] Patrick Riley, a Democrat, living [illegible], the other day, received a letter that had been laying in the Postoffice since [illegible] previous to the last fall election. As [illegible] not read, he took it to a friend who was [illegible] him to read it. It was from [illegible] of Pat's in DeWitt who was at [illegible] a candidate for an important office, asking [illegible] to be at the polls early in the morning and work hard for him all day [illegible] read, scratched his head and [illegible] I must do that—when is election [illegible]

REDUCTION IN FREIGHTS AND FARES ON THE [illegible] RIVER—In another column will be [illegible] the new schedule of freights and fares on [illegible] Oregon Steam Navigation Company, which go into effect to day This is a [illegible] matter to the trade, to consumers, [illegible] making the alteration. It [illegible] there are three classes of freight [illegible] our commercial report the former [illegible] in juxtaposition with the new [illegible] will enable the reader to see at a [illegible] how important the change is. We have [illegible] a copy of the Company's circular, referred [illegible] the advertisement, and find from it that [illegible] 2d and 3d include almost every article [illegible] the Columbia river from this city. The [illegible] varies from thirty to fifty per cent.

[illegible] —The Advocate says [illegible] for discussion at the Preachers' Meeting to be held on Tuesday morning next, is the [illegible] Rev. Wm. Robert will lead [illegible]

[illegible] the committee appointed to make arrangements for holding a District Sunday-school Convention, will [illegible] Taylor St. M. E. Church, in this city, [illegible] o'clock P. M. Committee consists of [illegible] and DeVore [illegible]

[illegible] that the Rosary and Benediction will be said every Wednesday, and the [illegible] of the Cross and Benediction every Friday [illegible] during the holy season of Lent, [illegible] at 7½ o'clock.

[illegible] Dr. Watkins has been [illegible] to make another examination of [illegible] pork, and the slice of ham, with its vile [illegible] can be seen at his office, in Odd Fellows [illegible] who have the curiosity, or [illegible] such things. This discovery was [illegible] sold to a family by a dealer, who [illegible] fact was made known to him, himself [illegible] the stock and took the sample of [illegible] to the Doctor's office We [illegible] to create a tape worm excitement, [illegible] of that nature, but wish simply to [illegible] persons to be careful and not eat pork [illegible] is very well cooked Cook 'em and [illegible] all right.

[illegible] The programme of the 23d Infantry band, for Saturday afternoon, March 12, [illegible] as follows

1. The Fest March
2. Long Branch Schottish.
3. Duet from I Masnadieri "Amalia lo Pamo."—Verdi
4. The Pearl River Quadrille.
5. Chorus of Mattadores in La Traviata.—Verdi.
6. Polonaise "Good-bye "—Faust

THE TRIAL OF EFFIE DEANS.—There was some foundation in fact, perhaps, concerning that [illegible] of Scott's relative to Effie Deans, who is [illegible] as having been tried for child murder, [illegible] providentially preserved through the love and sacrifice of her sister But there is no fiction about the statement that A B. Richardson, [illegible] at the usual hour, will sell a splendid picture representing the trial of Effie Deans Very many other useful and ornamental articles will be [illegible] at the same hour

A GERMAN SCHOOL.—Several of the leading German citizens of Portland are moving in the matter of establishing a German school for their children. PERSONAL AND POLITICAL

A Texas paper reports that ex Confederate Postmaster General Regan has written and published a letter in which he "approves of Radicalism in all its parts"

Gen Sam Houston's brother, John H, died in Washington suddenly of apoplexy on the 19th February, nearly 80 years of age. He had long been employed in the Treasury Department.

A New Orleans man has convicted his wife of perjury, in denying before a Court that she had ever been married to him. She says she never thought her husband fool enough to go to work to prove it.

A Democratic paper asserts that the principles of the Democratic party are founded upon the rock of justice and liberty But that is the rock upon which they split, for they sought not justice for the down-trodden nor liberty for the slave.

Hon Foster Blodgett received for United States Senator the votes of all but one of the Republicans in the Georgia Legislature, and that one afterwards explained that he had been notified that he could not return to and live in his county if he should vote for Mr Blodgett

The writer of an admirable series of letters in the London Daily News descriptive of a journey across the American continent by the Pacific Railway, in his closing letter earnestly advises continental travelers who grumble bitterly when they cannot obtain the bread and beef of England, to avoid the Pacific Railway, and not to visit the United States at all Aren't got the ops, you know

An ex army officer in Indiana tells a story of an acquaintance, who, having removed from his native town when a young man, went back there for his wife She lived but a short time, and he journeyed back for another who also "went to be an angel" Again he returned to his native village and this time he brought back two charming creatures, one he married and the other he kept on hand as a supply in case the Reaper should make him a widower for the third time

In a letter to a Georgian, Senator Lewis, of Virginia, says 'The only information I have is gleaned from the newspapers, and if their statements be correct I fear Georgia has acted badly—that is, she has not acted in entire good faith with the country This is the opinion of the President, who has certainly acted very leniently and who ardently desires peace and harmony throughout the entire country But for the troubles in your State, Virginia would have been admitted, without conditions, during the first days of the session"

Gov Senter has addressed a special message to the Tennessee Legislature calling attention to the continued outrages which have been perpetrated in that State on the lives persons and property of citizens and appealing for authority to take measures for their suppression After referring to these outrages in general terms he says "As not a single arrest has yet been made for the grossest violation of already existing laws although such violations have been frequent, and the largest rewards allowed have been often if not invariably offered to bring to justice it may be fairly concluded that such offenders are protected by organizations adequate, by terrorism, the force of numbers, or other means, to effect security against the ordinary civil process and officers of the law" Gov Senter is himself, perhaps, more directly responsible for these outrages, than any other man in the State except the perpetrators of the crimes themselves Had he not trampled down the Constitution of Tennessee to secure his election, these crimes would never have been heard of.

A Body and Mind Diseased

Such is dyspepsia The stomach and the brain are too intimately allied for the one to suffer without the other, so that dyspepsia and despondency are inseparable. It may be added, too, that irritation of the stomach is almost invariably accompanied by irritation of the temper The invigorating and tranquilizing operations of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is most powerfully developed in cases of indigestion The first effect of this agreeable tonic is comforting and encouraging A mild glow pervades the system the chronic uneasiness in the region of the stomach is lessened and the nervous restlessness which characterizes the disease is abated The improvement is not transient. It is not succeeded by the return of the old symptoms with superadded force, as is always the case when unmedicated stimulants are given for the complaint Each dose seems to impart a permanent accession of healthful invigoration But this is not all The aperient and anti bilious properties of the preparation are scarcely secondary in importance to its tonic virtues If there is an overflow of bile the secretion is soon brought within proper limits and if the biliary organ is inert and torpid it is toned and regulated The effect upon the discharging organs is equally salutary and in cases of constipation the cathartic action is just sufficient to produce the desired result gradually and without pain The Bitters also promote healthy evaporation from the surface which is particularly desirable when sudden changes check the natural perspiration and produce congestion of the liver coughs and colds The best safeguard against all diseases is bodily vigor and this the great Vegetable Restorative essentially promotes

What Next!

[From the N. Y. Times.]

The passage of the Amendment removes from our politics forever a most embarrassing question. It establishes a principle which must always be a part of our Government's policy. As the Amendment now stands, it is a sentiment—something expressed, nothing done. We are curious to see what legislation Congress will deem necessary to enforce it.

The application of this amendment to the various conditions under which the franchise has heretofore been granted, in various parts of the country, will be a delicate task. The provisions are exact and intelligible: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States, or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude." Under former laws the right of franchise was governed by conflicting qualifications. In Rhode Island the ballot has been subject to an invidious distinction, and the great manufacturing houses, like Brown & Ives, and the Spragues, with their thousands of operatives, virtually controlled the State. In New York the negro was only permitted to vote when he had a property qualification. In other States he could not vote at all. All this is destroyed by the amendment. Every man not within the limitation of alienage, or under the ban of the law, or deprived of reason, will stand erect and unchallenged before the ballot!

There will be many efforts to nullify this amendment by restrictive legislation. In Tennessee it is proposed to put a poll tax upon the voters, sufficient to disfranchise at least forty thousand of the freedmen. This may have a temporary effect—as, of course, the black men of Tennessee, or of any Southern State, are poorer than their old masters. We question, however, whether the white men of any Southern State will be willing to tax themselves, merely to gratify their anger against the negro. Legislation of this kind will in time right itself. Establish such a tax, and it adds a stronger motive to the negro to raise himself,—to make himself able to pay the tax. It is a stimulous to ambition. It confirms him in his devotion to the party that gave him freedom and citizenship. It prevents the Democracy from gaining any negro votes, and is, in effect, a proposition so absurd that it can never become a precedent.

What limitations, then, are possible under this amendment? There can be no tax that will not injure the white man as much as the negro. There may be a test of naturalization to affect the Chinese—but a test of education—and to our mind such a test would be proper—would fall no more heavily upon the negro than upon the white. The constituents of Mackerelville and the Five Points will hesitate before they make a law for Pompey that will be the least embarrassed Dermot.

There will be laws, and proposed laws to annul and destroy the amendment. Tennessee and Maryland and California and Delaware will probably try to overwhelm this wise and lofty measure with stifling legislation. There can be no law that will be anything more than an annoyance. All that we expect from Congress is certain guarantees that the alien who resides with us shall obey our laws, respect the flag, yield no foreign allegiance, and be in a political sense an American. If Chinamen come merely to make money, that they may go home to their flowery land and spend it, they are not citizens, but sojourners! As all of them have this purpose and hope—and live in the daily dream of a return to their loved China, that they there may live and die and mix with its sacred dust,—we do not expect Asiatic accession to our suffrage. The Chinaman has shown no desire to adopt our customs, our religion, our nationality. He is so much a sojourner that he has not even brought his women. He has shown no desire to make America his home. Until he manifests that desire, we need not look upon him as a serious candidate for the franchise. So in considering the probable workings of this amendment, the Chinese question, which has given so much uneasiness to some of our thinkers, must be considered as adjourned until a new revelation comes over the minds of the Chinese themselves.

The duty of Congress is simple and explicit. Let it enforce this amendment by providing no laws shall be passed affecting the franchise, except laws that will stimulate education, industry and thrift. Now that we have opened the door to all the children of men to come and sit under our vine and fig tree, and be as essentially American as ourselves, let us strive to encourage them to become worthy of the privilege.

A Situation Open.—The romance of the runaway darkey was quite played out after the North and South had picked their flints for the final shot.

Once in a while, however, there comes a reminiscence which shows Sambo's native humor, and how irresistible was his hankering for the "boon of freedom." Before the war there came into the bar room of a hotel in Canada, near the frontier, a bright-looking negro who was thus addressed by one of the many idle persons usually found in such resorts:

"I 'spose you're a runaway slave," said one, looking sharp at the newcomer.

Feeling that he was pretty well away from bondage, the darkey responded that he was.

"Ah, indeed; well, we're glad of it; but you don't seem to look very poor—have good clothes down South?"

"Certainly," said the darkey with some pride, "same clothes as my master."

"But you got many threshings, eh?"

"Never had a whipping in my life."

"Never threshed!" said another; "well, but you niggers don't always get enough to eat, do you?"

"Always had enough, gemmen; never went hungry."

"What!" said the interrogator, "good clothes, no punishment, plenty to eat. Now," said he, turning to the group, "only think of it! this fellow has left a position where he enjoyed all the privileges for an uncertainty."

"Gemmen," said the darkey, "all I've got to say respectin' dem privileges is, dat if any one wants to avail hisse'f of em, de situation am still open!"—Harper's Magazine.

Goat Island.—The Committee of the House of Representatives have reported unanimously in favor of a bill giving Goat Island, in San Francisco harbor to the Western Pacific Railroad Company, with a proviso "that one third thereof shall be reserved by the United States, if that amount be found necessary, for fortifications and military purposes, to be selected within six months from the passage of this Act."

And, Provided further, That any and all railroad companies shall have the right to run their cars from the mainland over the track of the Western Pacific Railroad Company to said island, under such rules as to time-tables and other necessary railroad regulations as shall be prescribed by the said Western Pacific Railroad Company; but each company availing itself of the privilege, shall first pay to the Western Pacific Railroad Company an equal proportion of the cost of improvements on said island, and the expenses incurred in reaching the same from the main land.

Grace Greenwood tells a good story of the effect once produced by the eloquence of Senator Nye, Biblically backed, "fervent and effectual," by telling texts. Though what is vulgarly called a stump speech, it had so much the character of pulpit oratory, that one auditor, at least, was profoundly affected. A nice, susceptible old lady, wiping the tears from her eyes, said, addressing some callous politicians about her, "I don't know what you may think, but I believe that man knows somethink about vital piety."

The New York Citizen (Democratic) says: "Mr. Hitchman, Speaker of the New York Assembly, mentioned that he knew of one man who had voted twenty times at the last election. We can beat him easily. We can produce a repeater who deposited eighty votes in one day, getting in as many as six in each of several election districts. We claim for this industrious gentleman the championship, and dare Hitchman or Norton to produce his equal."

Perilous Descent of an Aeronaut—His Balloon Wrecked

The Augusta Constitutionalist publishes an account, given by Professor S. A. King, of a balloon ascension made by him from that city, on Wednesday afternoon, 9th, ult. The cable was loosed at 4:15, and the wind being high he moved off rapidly in a northeasterly direction. At length it becoming dark, he found it necessary to descend, and the result of his attempt he tells as follows:

I now allowed the balloon to settle gradually, with the view of landing as soon as an opportunity offered. I floated along for some time, however, before a clearing came in my way, when this came at last in the shape of a field walled around by a thick wood. The rate of speed at which I was traveling, and the uncertainty with which height is measured by the eye in the absence of daylight, showed me the difficulty of landing under such circumstances. The attempt was made, however, but without success, just touching the tree tops on the opposite side of the lot. I had one bag of ballast left. It was immediately thrown over, and kept the balloon out of the trees for a while, but it soon settled again and brushed the tops of five or six pines, causing it to rebound from fifty to one hundred feet. This brought to view another field just ahead, on which were a number of naked dead pines. To have the balloon impaled on one of these is probably the most dangerous position in which the aeronaut could be placed, and I would much rather have taken the chances among the green pines, but my ballast was gone. I quickly let go my drag rope, hoping to clear them by letting the rope drag instead of carrying its dead weight in the basket, but it was not enough, and in another moment the "Hyperion" dashed broadside against one of the tallest of these fiendish-looking skeletons and was fastened in its arms; the sudden escape of all the gas must of course follow, and what then? I jumped on to the edge of the basket, seized the drag rope with my hands, took a turn around one leg, and the next moment would have been safe upon the ground; but the gas had escaped in less time than it took me to make my preparations, and with a crash the rotten limbs gave way, and the whole mass fell together. The distance from the ground must have been from fifty to sixty feet, and how I escaped with whole bones seems to me, at this moment a miracle. The shock was terrible. I arose immediately to my feet, staggering about like a drunken man, and yet astonished that I could do so much. I soon regained strength, however, sufficient to enable me to reach a house near by, where I found some very intelligent colored people, who did all that lay in their power to render me the assistance I needed. I suffered much pain during the night, and did not pretend to sleep; but by Thursday afternoon I had so far recovered as to be able to see to the packing of the wreck of the balloon, and at 7 o'clock that evening I started in a wagon for Gourdin Station on the Northeastern Railroad, fifty miles from Charleston and eighteen miles from where I landed. The place of my descent was in the extreme southeastern portion of Clarendon County, S. C., on the plantation of Mrs. George A. Golby. On Friday morning I took the cars for Charleston, and left for Augusta the same evening. The trip in the balloon was was made in about three hours and a half, and the distance made not less than 130 miles.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Portland, March 11, 1870.

As we expected, gold has taken the back track, being quoted to day at 110⅞ at New York.

Portland legal tender rates are therefore 88@88½.

We have no change to note in the general state of the money market nor in either the merchandise or produce markets. The latter is not subject to frequent or violent changes, and prices may be expected to remain as last quoted, till the arrival of the Ajax, now out from San Francisco.

The question of transportation has long been considered one of the most important ones affecting our commercial interests. It has long been a matter of complaint that freight charges, both ocean and interior, upon the northern Pacific coast, were too high considering the price of all productions of the country. At various times the transportation lines, in answer to the general demand, have reduced their rates to such standards as in their opinions were just when considered in relation to the actual cost of transportation and the prices of produce. But the facts compel us to say, the reductions have never completely answered the demands of shippers, nor have they been effectual to prevent a large portion of the freight for Idaho and the interior mining regions from being withdrawn from the Columbia route and sent by others. The O. S. N. Co have, however, now made what must be considered by all parties a liberal reduction not only in freights but fares on the whole extent of their shipping routes, and they have made such arrangements with the N. P. T. Co as will make it possible to take again the bulk of the carrying trade between San Francisco, via this city, and the entire mining regions to the east of us, except such as lie contiguous to the Central Pacific railroad. We have not space here to exhibit in detail the changes made; but the following figures will show sufficiently what is now proposed:

	Former Rates.	Reduced Rates.
Freights—	per ton.	1st class.	2d class.	3d class.
Portland to Dalles	$15 00	$15 00	$12 50	$10 00
" " Umatilla	30 00	25 00	20 00	15 00
" " Wallula	35 00	30 00	25 00	20 00
" " Lewiston	60 00	60 00	40 00	30 00

Passage—	Former Fare.	Reduced Fare.
Portland to Dalles	$6 25	$5 00
" " Umatilla	15 00	12 00
" " Wallula	16 00	12 00
" " Lewiston	25 00	20 00

The rates of freight for agricultural implements, etc., are special, and are contained in a circular issued by the Company, copies of which may be obtained at the office in this city. For convenience of reference, merchants would do well to procure copies and send to their customers in the interior. The circulars also contain classifications of freight, prices for live stock, and conditions upon which shipments will be made in respect to risks on certain articles. It is believed that the rates now offered will enable interior shippers to effect a saving by freighting this way, or by buying at this city instead of at San Francisco and shipping by the railroad.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten, are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial. (Private Entrance on Commercial) San Francisco. Post Office Box 251.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 251 ON THE LETTER.
Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian. jy6d4ptf
